

...slide light as a fiddle bow!

MARTIN
Committee Model
TROMBONE

Nine of the nation's top artists told Martin what they wanted in a trombone... a light, fast slide; accurate intonation; quick response; and a clear, rich tone that carries into the upper register. Out of the many models that were built, incorporating suggestions made by this "jury" of exacting trombonists, one instrument was given unanimous approval. This is it... the Committee Model Martin.

Here is the trombone that responds beautifully in all registers, and will take all you can give it. Tones will not "crack" because of special alloy used in hand-tempered bell. The slide is light as a fiddle bow. Its velvety action right from the start is due to chrome inner slide, double-drawn brass outer slide... both made to extreme accuracy.

Of particular importance to the musician who plays long hours is the fine balance of this Committee Model Martin... obtained by internal loading of the tuning slide cross brace. Invisible slide lock and positive lock on the bell are among the "plus" features. In every respect, you'll find this Martin to be the trombone you've always wanted...

the trombone you need to play your very best.
